IAP-Pediatric Emergency Medicine Conference (NAPEM-2022)

Workshop Highlights

Point of Care Ultrasound

Ultrasound at bedside has revolutionized emergency care. With its easy accessibility and relatively objective assessment at the hands of experienced practitioners, POCUS can guide in making clinical decisions at every step of patient management. It has become a must know area especially in the emergency and critical care setting.

We will deal with

- POCUS in pediatric Trauma- The FAST scan:
- Indication, views and interpretation
- Basic Echocardiography- A functional assessment
- Basic anatomy and how to obtain standard views,
- Cardiac contractility,
- Pericardial effusions and other emergency interpretations.
- IVC for fluid management
- Collapsibility and distensibility based fluid management,
- Chest ultrasonography- The Basics.
- Basic anatomy and USG visualization of lung structures,
- Identify Pneumothorax and pleural effusion.
- Ocular USG - Raised ICP
- Optic nerve sheath diameter and its interpretation.
- Procedural assistance- Central lines, ET intubation position etc.

Triage

The fundamental skill an emergency physician requires is to prioritize and identify those who need emergent care; the best way being to triage his patients.

Triage workshop addresses the following:-

- Look and identify- The Pediatric assessment triangle and interpretation
- Primary assessment- Airway, breathing, circulation, Disability and Exposure.
- Assigning a triage level.
- Secondary survey
- Complimentary investigations- When to do? & what to do?
- Working together as a team

IAP-Pediatric Emergency Medicine Conference (NAPEM-2022)

PEARL

Pediatric emergency resuscitation plays an important role in reviving patients. To do it efficiently with good synchrony among team members is vital for a successful outcome in any emergency room.

In this workshops we discuss the following:-

- Pre- resuscitation preparations
- Assigning team members a role
- Receiving a patient - Review of Triage
- Appropriate actions based on initial assessment.
- Re-assessing a patient - when and what to do?
- Post CPR care - The Basics.

Pediatric trauma and Life support

The duty of emergency physician does not end with triage and initial stabilisation. Care of the patient to the point of handover to a pediatric ICU / appropriate facility is the responsibility of the emergency unit. This may take time especially in the Indian scenario. Here comes the role of extended emergency care - Pediatric trauma and life support.

Using a case based approach we discuss the following

- A Review of Triage
- Continued Airway Management.
- Ventilation - Basic modes and when to use them.
- Extended Preservation of circulation - Shock in Trauma.
- Continued care in Traumatic brain injury and Spinal cord injury
- Thoracic and Abdominal injury - A systematic evaluation and management.
- Musculoskeletal injuries - an often neglected system.
