National Five Days Hands-on Workshop

NEXT GENERATION SEQUENCING NGS

23rd – 27th April, 2024

Jointly Organised by

State Virus Research and Diagnostic Laboratories (VRDL)
Department of Microbiology
All India Institute Of Medical Sciences, Raipur
and
Premas Life Sciences Pvt Ltd., New Delhi

About the State VRDL, AIIMS, Raipur

The state-level Virus Research and Diagnostic Laboratory (VRDL), Department of Microbiology, AIIMS, Raipur established by Department of Health Research, Ministry of Health & Family Welfare, Government of India, provides state of the art diagnostic, research and training facility in human viral infectious diseases. VRDL array of work include investigation of all viral disease outbreak in the state of Chhattisgarh, identification of viral strains, unravelling its epidemiological characteristics and genetic analysis for effective control and further prevention.

About the Workshop

With the advent of Next-Generation sequencing technology, it has now become possible for the scientists and clinicians to look into the whole genome of an infectious microorganisms. NGS being expensive and requires expertise to analyse the data, it is most often outsourced and hence, remains elusive. To give the hands on experience of NGS by explaining in detail both the theoretical and practical aspects, this national five day workshop is proposed by state-level VRDL, Department of Microbiology, AIIMS, Raipur and Premas Life Sciences Pvt. Ltd. The workshop aims to address the key issues in NGS pertaining to Illumina platform instrument and its component detail explanation, nucleic acid extraction, target enrichment, library preparation, denaturing library, loading of flow cell and analysis of data using various software tools and algorithms at various stages of data analysis. Organizing this five days national workshop on “Next Generation Sequencing - NGS ” is an attempt to provide insight of this methods to all interested students, scientists and faculties .

No of participants in workshop: Twenty Four (24)

Workshop may be useful for

Post graduate students and Ph.D. scholars, scientists, researchers, laboratory personnel, Faculty members from any research institute, hospital, universities and laboratories.
